

*From
the President...*

Kim Serna, Jones Day

Happy New Year! I hope everyone had a safe and happy holiday. I know I enjoyed the holidays, especially the luncheons at Brennan's and Chesterfield's. Thank you West and Susan Spillman. Of course now that means extra time spent in the gym, but it was worth it.

With the holidays behind us, it's time to get back to business. The first order of business for the new year is our Chapter bylaws. Charles Gibson, along with the Executive Board, has proposed minor revisions to our Chapter bylaws. I would like to vote on the adoption of these bylaws at our February meeting. In the interest of time, I have included the proposed changes within this newsletter for your review. You can compare the enclosed bylaws with those that are currently in effect on our Chapter website. It is my hope that any issues, questions, or concerns that may arise from these changes can be addressed prior to our meeting.

It is also time to start thinking about the future of our organization and your involvement. Susan Yancey will begin looking for nominations to serve on the 2006-2007 Executive Board. If you are interested in a leadership position please contact Susan. Susan Spillman will be looking for Committee Chairpersons in the near future as well. Please contact her if you are interested in chairing one of the many HALL Committees. The organization is always looking for new ideas and fresh faces, so please volunteer. Officer elections will be held in May at our general business meeting.

The 2006 AALL annual meeting is quickly approaching. This year HALL has a free registration, in addition to the available scholarships and grants. The centennial celebration is sure to be a terrific annual meeting that you won't want to miss. Apply for those scholarships and grants early.

Looking forward to a terrific 2006!!

AALL Rep Visit in February

Susan Spillman, South Texas College of Law

Our February 8th meeting will be our AALL Chapter Visit meeting. AALL Past President, Victoria "Tory" Trotta, will be our speaker.

Tory is the Associate Dean for Information Technology and the Ross-Blakley Law Library at Arizona State University. She received her Masters in Library Science from UCLA and her JD from USC. Before joining the staff at Arizona State, she was the Law Librarian for an Arizona law firm for about 7 years. At USC, she held positions in every aspect of law library administration. She has also co-authored and produced the State Bar of Arizona CLE program on conducting legal research over the Internet, a program that ran monthly for over a year.

Tory will arrive in Houston on February 7th for a Happy Hour and dinner at a downtown location to allow members an additional opportunity to talk personally with her. The location has not yet been determined but will be announced on HALL-L. The February 8th meeting will be held at South Texas College of Law with Treebeard's catering – yummy!

Watch your e-mail for the meeting announcement with all the details!

Member News...

Bethany Bletsch has retired from ExxonMobil.

Violanda Fabugais, Assistant Director of Library Services, Fulbright & Jaworski L.L.P., retired at the end of December after 28 years of service. Violanda served on the HALL Executive Board as a Member-at-Large in 2000-2001, and participated in many meetings, both local and national. She is looking forward to the completion of a new home being built in Pearland. Congratulations, and we'll miss you!

Michele Lucero, Legal Information Manager, Mayer, Brown, Rowe & Maw LLP, has been accepted and will be attending Teaching Research in Private Law Libraries (TRIPLL) in April in Dallas. TRIPLL is sponsored by the LexisNexis Librarian Relations Group, and the mission of this year's conference is to prepare participants for the training challenges of the 21st century.

Michele also ran the Houston Half Marathon this year. She writes: "This was my 4th half (Houston being my first half last year). Despite lack of training, I did surprisingly well. I haven't trained in a while, but this has inspired me! I ran the half in 2:31:10 running the whole way. The gorgeous weather and spectators made it a favorite. About 17,000 runners turned out to run the full, half or 5K. It was so much fun! I'll be running the Austin half in February (training of course this time). Working up to a full marathon."

Laura Tieken, formerly Library Supervisor at Dewey Ballantine LLP, is now Library and Research Services for Connelly Baker Maston Wotring Jackson LLP.

Welcome to Our New Members

The Fred Parks Law Library Celebrates its Half-Millionth Volume!

Mark Lambert, South Texas College of Law

[Editor's Note: This article originally appeared in The Fred Parks Law Library newsletter, Footnotes, Vol. 18, no. 1 (Jan-Mar 2006).

On Friday, October 21st, 2005, The Fred Parks Law Library of South Texas College of Law celebrated an important milestone, the acquisition of its Half-Millionth Volume. For the occasion, the library acquired two rare books to represent the ceremonial half-millionth and half-millionth and first volumes to be added to the library's collection. This event was included as part of Founder's Day, the day each fall when the college celebrates its founding in 1923 by the Houston Y.M.C.A. and some of the most prestigious attorneys in Houston at the time.

For the half-millionth volume, the library acquired a rare first edition of William Blackstone's Commentaries on the Laws of England, which included the very rare "Supplement to the First Edition." For the half-millionth and first volume, the library acquired an early (1610-11) edition of the Spanish medieval law code, Las Siete Partidas, glossed by important Spanish medieval jurist Gregorio Lopez. With these two books the library was able to honor the two legal systems that have made Texas law, the Anglo-American common law, and the Roman-Spanish civil law. The acquisition of these two rare books was funded by the Fred and Mabel Parks Foundation of Houston.

The celebration was held in the lobby of the Fred Parks Law Library, with guest speakers South Texas Dean James Alfani, Ann Parks Stallings of the Parks Foundation, Library Director David Cowan, Special Collections Librarian Mark Lambert, and the featured special guest speaker, Joseph W. McKnight, Larry and Jane Harlan Faculty Fellow and Professor of Law at the Dedman School of Law, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas.

Professor McKnight, an expert in American Legal History and Family Law, talked briefly about the significance of these two volumes to Texas and legal history, including two interesting pieces of trivia. The first piece of trivia was the fact that the United States symbol for money, the dollar sign ($), was derived from the seal of the Monarchs of Spain, which included two columns wrapped by scrolls. The second bit of trivia was the fact that the New York Stock Exchange's long habit of pricing stocks in eighths, as in 1/8th, 2/8th, etc., was derived from the Spanish system of money, the coin of eight reales, or piece of eight.

Following the guest speakers, a champagne toast was given to the two rare books, and also to deceased library benefactor Fred Parks, and a reception was held in the Fred Parks Law Library lobby. The library's collection now ranks in the top third of all law libraries in the United States, according to the number of volumes.

The two rare books were exhibited in the library lobby until the close of fall semester, and are now housed in the Special Collections Department of the Fred Parks Law Library, along with numerous other significant rare law books, manuscript collections documenting Texas and American legal history, and the historical records of the college.

Call for Contributions to Teach-In/Sourcebook

Paul Howard, ALL-SIS Legal Research Sourcebook Committee
Co-Chair

Do you have any legal instructional materials, guides, presentations, assignments, exams? Why not consider sharing them with your colleagues through the RIPS-SIS Teach-In Resource Kit or the ALL-SIS Legal Research Sourcebook.

ALL-SIS and RIP-SIS, two long-standing AALL special interest sections, have joined together to recruit submissions of legal research training and instructional materials. The RIPS sponsored National Legal Research Teach-In campaign has provided the popular Teach-In Resource Kit for many years as a print publication designed to support the instructional activities of law librarians. It is published annually in conjunction with National Library Week each April. And now ALL-SIS has established its ground-breaking Legal Research Sourcebook as an electronic database of any and all legal research instructional materials that AALL members wish to submit.

How can you play a part in this exciting new partnership? Get involved by sharing your comments, suggestions – and materials! Teach In/Sourcebook submissions are currently being accepted. You can contact or send submissions as e-mail attachments to any of the people listed below. Any document format that can be attached to e-mail is acceptable.

We will accept most any instructional materials that you care to offer:

- course syllabi
- research guides
- lecture notes
- handouts
- assignments
- lesson plans
- PowerPoint shows
- basic instructional guides
- examinations and guided quizzes
- crossword puzzles and trivia quizzes

And we will recommend whether your materials are suitable for publication in the Teach-In Kit or the Sourcebook database – or both! So, you have the choice of contributing to both publications through a single submission process.

Both special interest sections will maintain these unique resources to provide the best legal research materials to AALL members. In order to solicit the widest range of submissions possible for both sources, RIPS and ALL-SIS decided to partner in their public relations efforts. Now your legal research materials can go the extra mile by supporting two resources at the same time!

We welcome your ideas and suggestions and encourage you to contact us to discuss your contributions.

West Scholarships

The West Excellence in Law Librarianship Scholarships program encourages leadership and excellence within the profession. West awards scholarships of $2,500 each year to several full-time students working toward graduate-level library science degrees with a demonstrated interest in law librarianship. Law librarians pursuing library science, law or graduate-level technology or computer science degrees as continuing education within the profession are also eligible.

Once the application period ends, recipients are selected by an independent scholarship advisory board made up of practicing law librarians from private, academic, corporate, and government law libraries. The awards are announced during National Library Week (April 2-8) 2006.

Please visit the Librarian Relations Web site
