2010 BRIDGE THE GAP

A Program to Build Legal Research and Career Development Skills for Summer Employment and Beyond

Each year, the Law Library Association of Greater New York presents a day-long program addressing the most pressing concerns of novice researchers, with the goal of easing the transition from law school to summer employment. This year, we are broadening our audience to include unemployed attorneys and those with deferred offers who want to keep their research skills fresh, and we have added some practical career development programming that should be of interest to both attorneys and students.

Our practical research programs are presented by some of the most recognized law librarians in the metropolitan area. The day consists of a general overview session on the research process, followed by a choice of several break-out sessions for specific practice areas, including:

Bankruptcy | Business/Company Research | Criminal Law | Employment/Labor Law
International Arbitration | International Law | New York Internet Legal Research
Patents | Securities & Corporate Law.

Alongside the topical legal research offerings will be programs on Social Media: Ethics and the Practice of Law; Legal Research on a Tight Budget and Research for Career Development. Lunch will include a presentation on How to Make Yourself a Top Candidate and an optional tour of the New York City Bar Library for those who are interested. The day concludes with a panel of practitioners from different legal venues, who will describe the typical expectations for summer employees, and offer their advice on how to be successful in a summer job.

Tuition is $30.00, which includes breakfast, lunch and course materials—a real bargain!

Space is limited, so we encourage you to sign up using the accompanying registration form without delay. Registration forms and payment must be received by Friday, March 19, 2010.
