HELEN CATHERINE NEWMAN

1904-1965

For three days last July the flag of the Supreme Court of the United States hung at half mast. Helen Newman, librarian and officer of the Court, died on July 21, 1965.

This issue of the LAW LIBRARY JOURNAL is dedicated to her memory. It is a meager tribute to one who stood so high in her profession and in the hearts of all who knew her. We hope that those who did not know her will glimpse some of the warmth and deep humanity of the person who was "Our Helen."
