Vol. 24, No. 1 Fall 1997

Newsletter of the State, Court and County SIS of the American Association of Law Libraries

You'll notice the empty box to the left of this message. What gives? My predecessor, Frank Herch, set the tone for his year as chair by providing the newsletter editors with the catchy saxophone clip-art and "Jazz from the Chair" in each issue. As the newsletter deadline for this issue approached, the creative part of my brain fizzled. I am at a loss for an "appropriate" logo to represent my year as chair, so I've decided to enlist the assistance of the collective creativity of SCCLL members—a contest of sorts. Help me fill this blank box with a snappy logo.

Details: Submit a logo "suitable" for me. The individual who submits the winning entry will receive a $30.00 gift certificate to their choice of Amazon.com or Barnes & Noble bookstores *Entry deadline: November 10, 1997 *Mail, fax entries to: Gail Warren, Va. State Law Library, 100 N. 9th Street, 2nd Floor, Richmond, VA 23219, fax: (804) 786-4542 *Contest judges: Rick Stroup, Beverly Rubenstein and Jean Holcomb

If you have Internet access, have you subscribed to the State, Court and County Law Libraries list serv? If not, do so soon or you'll miss information about committees, events and colleagues! The SCCLL SIS will offer many new opportunities this year for SIS members. In July, the SCCLL Executive Board approved creation of a Grants Committee, currently chaired by Kathy Carlson and ably assisted by Michele Finerty and Georgiana Gekas Wellford. Look for more information about this committee and funding opportunities for professional development in coming issues of this newsletter.

Charlie Dyer and Regina Smith are already two months into plans for the Trustee Development Committee. Regina has written and submitted a proposal to the Anaheim Program Selection Committee (AALL) for a Trustee Workshop to precede the Anaheim meeting. Charlie is working closely with AALL to ensure the Gates Library Foundation funding for public libraries includes public law libraries.

Enough information from me. Your perusal of this issue of the newsletter is better spent eyeballing the roster of committee members, reading news from the AALL Annual Meeting and programs in Baltimore, and learning about new opportunities for our SIS.

Minutes of the SCCLL Business Meeting

SUNDAY, JULY 20, 1997
BALTIMORE, MARYLAND

Chair Frank Herch called the meeting to order at 9:15 am.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Chair Herch asked that SCCLL members respond to the AALL Salary Survey now in progress.

Chair-Elect Gail Warren announced that a preliminary committee roster was distributed, but that more volunteers are needed for all committees.

Managing Court Libraries in the 21st Century

Erick Low of the National Center for State Courts announced that a seminar is scheduled for November 1997, Managing Court Libraries in the 21st Century. There are scholarships available for this seminar sponsored by West Publishing. A mailing about this seminar will go to each SCCLL member.

WEBSITE/INTERNET COMMITTEE

Jerry Watson has volunteered to serve as the webmaster for the SCCLL web page. Possible contents of the page will include the newsletter, bylaws, brochure, and committee charges and members.

BILL AND MELINDA GATES LIBRARY FOUNDATION

Charles Dyer and Jean Holcomb initiated an effort to assure that the Gates Foundation's definition of public library be interpreted to include public law libraries, in order that we be eligible for Foundation funding. The SCCLL Trustees Committee will focus on this opportunity. Judy Meadows is establishing a special committee on Law Library fundraising. [Wes Cochran will chair this AALL committee.] It was suggested that Patricia Glass Schumann be contacted regarding this opportunity. She is a speaker on one of the programs this week.

SECRETARY/TREASURER REPORT

Minutes of the Indianapolis meeting, published in the Fall 1996 newsletter, were approved. SCCLL is financially healthy. As of May 30, 1997, the balance in the treasury was $8,428.17.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

Awards - Shirley David, Chair

In addition to awarding the Bethany J. Ochal Award for Distinguished Service to Edgar Bellefontaine and Maria Sekula, the Awards Committee was given the following charge: to develop written criteria for all awards; brainstorm ways to encourage nominations; perhaps create nomination forms; and review criteria of 20 year pins. Henceforth, SCCLL members will qualify for 20 year pins if they have been members of SCCLL for 10 years and in AALL for 20 years, rather than 20 year members of SCCLL. The James O. Werner Award was expanded to recognize not only persons with disabilities but also those who have provided or arranged for significant services to persons with disabilities. The Bethany Ochal Award will no longer be confidential, but will be included in the AALL Awards brochure, distributed to all annual meeting registrants in their registration packet, giving the recipients greater visibility throughout AALL.

Newsletter - Beverly Rubenstein, Co-Editor (on behalf of Rick Stroup, Co-Editor)

Four issues were published this year for the first time since 1992. William S. Hein & Company continues its generosity of support by publishing our newsletter at cost and arranging for its mailing.

Nominations - Carol Billings, Chair

The committee developed a quality slate of Jean Holcomb and Kathy Carlson for Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect and Jacqueline Wright and Tim Lewis for Board member. Jean and Jackie were elected. The Committee also submitted names to the AALL Nominations Committee for consideration for AALL office. Carol asked that all members provide input to this year's Chair, Brenda Kelley.

Publicity and Membership Committee- Anita Anderson, Chair

Eight members received 20 year pins and certificates: Joanne R. Beal, Rosemarie Chrisant, Shirley David, Joel Fishman, Anne Grande, Peggy Hall, Carol Meyer and Jonathan C. Stock. Certificates of appreciation were given to Deborah Norwood and Jan Ryan Novak as outgoing Board Members.

Standards Committee

The most recent versions of the standards were published in Law Library Journal, Fall 1996. An appendix of definitions relating to employment is being developed.

Statistics Committee - Frank Herch, Chair

Frank Herch reported that he, Ann Koto and Kalyn Gabriel will be doing a survey of SCCLL members in the coming year on a variety of topics, loosely based on the model of the ABA questionnaire for academic law libraries.

Strategic Planning - Anne Matthewman, Chair

The committee discussed SIS strategic planning with planners from other SIS groups. This year, the committee will draft a plan.
