FROM THE CHAIR

Dan Wade

It was fun seeing so many of you in Atlanta. I would like to express a collective thank you to Jeanette Yackle and Janet Zagorin, who coordinated excellent programs. If you were unable to come to Atlanta I strongly encourage you to get the tape cassettes of the programs from AALL Headquarters. Again, I want to thank all those who participated in the post-meeting workshop on Latin American Law and Law-Related Reference Sources. The workshop materials are excellent, and if you are interested in this area of the law but do not wish to acquire a set, I suggest you avail yourself through interlibrary loan. Minutes and committee reports from our SIS business meeting will hopefully appear in the next issue of this newsletter.

Annual Meeting in Reno

The 1989 Meeting in Reno promises to be another great experience for our SIS members. Our proposed Workshop on Civil Law has been approved for the Saturday prior to the Annual Meeting. Also approved were our two proposed programs on Japanese Law and International Commercial Arbitration. I am hoping our SIS will sponsor a number of working groups to meet on Sunday around selected topics, and I look forward to seeing many of you at our traditional luncheon on Monday.

Working Groups

In Atlanta the Latin American Law Librarians decided to become a "working group" of the SIS. Any number of working groups could be formed either on an ad hoc or continuing basis. I am eager to receive ideas for such working groups as they could focus around our mutual needs and problems. Two that have already been suggested are law collecting from Africa and from the Soviet Union. I believe it was in Chicago that Tom Reynolds took on all questions at a round table setting; perhaps we need another conversational experience with an expert or experts. (I do not see this being formal, but rather a publicly announced informal gathering.) Let me know your thoughts and concerns, we need to get the planning done by December 1st so that we can request rooms; otherwise we can meet by the side of the hotel pool!
SIS Foreign Law Survey

One project that should really help us find colleagues with similar interests is the Foreign Law Survey on which Ellen Schaffer is currently working. In the next month or two she should be mailing out the questionnaire. If we all participate it should be a very valuable resource. I implore you to take the time to complete the questionnaire. Ellen promises me it will not be onerous!

Newsletter

At the orientation meeting for SIS chairs in Chicago, Margaret Leary, AALL President, charged the SISs to make their newsletters more educational. Let me once more make my plea for contributions from the membership to the newsletter. Brief observations on new publications will be greatly appreciated. For example, some of you may have seen the special issue of the Yale Law & Policy Review on "American Trade Policy: Actors, Issues, and Options."

One idea for enhancing the educational nature of our newsletter emanating from our Publications Committee meeting in Atlanta was to have members from each of the chapters share items of interest on foreign, comparative and international law from their chapter newsletters. This is one way to become involved in our SIS at a minimal cost. Please volunteer to review your chapter newsletter and send me pertinent items. If I do not have volunteers by December 1st, I shall be making recruiting calls. Please say "Yes!" if you receive such a call.

State of the SIS

The strength of our SIS remains strong and our membership is up to 260. This is a substantial increase over last year (see membership list appended to this newsletter). We have many new foreign members, especially Canadians. Welcome!

Even better news is that we are solvent! Our financial statement balance as of August 1, 1988 is $1,783.01.

INDEX TO LATIN AMERICAN LEGISLATION

During the Atlanta meeting, the AALL Executive Board passed the SIS resolution calling for public access to the Library of Congress Hispanic Law Division's Index to Latin American Legislation (see issue 2.3 of this newsletter). Jacqueline Rice, University of Virginia Law Library, has written to report that in a recent telephone conversation with Dr. Rubens Medina, Director of that division, she learned that the index should be made available nine months to a year from now. In addition, the Library of Congress is considering the idea of providing the full text of the Latin American gazettes, which, if done, will duplicate Jackie's efforts. For the moment it is too early to tell what decisions the Library of Congress will make, but we shall attempt to keep you posted.

By the way, Jackie will continue to provide the 1988 microfiche for the gazettes from El Salvador and Nicaragua. We are truly grateful for her efforts on our behalf.

The FCIL Newsletter is published in October, February, and May by the AALL Foreign, Comparative and International Law Special Interest Section. The main goal of this Section is "to serve as a forum for the exchange of ideas and information on foreign, comparative and international law, and to represent its members’ interests and concerns within the AALL."

The newsletter is sent free to members of the FCIL SIS. It is available for that "exchange of ideas and information."

SIS COUNCIL SOLICITS COMMENTS ON ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE RECOMMENDATIONS

Carol Billings, Chair of the AALL SIS Council

Upon the recommendation of the Special Committee on Organizational Structure, the Executive Board has asked the SIS Council to solicit comments from all SIS members, to deliberate, and to report its reaction to the Special Committee's report in time for study prior to the March 1989 Board meeting. In order to prepare its response by the prescribed January deadline, the SIS Council needs members' opinions immediately, no later than December 2. Please mail your comments regarding any of the following Special Committee recommendations to your SIS chair:

1. "Consider the overlap and dilution of impact which exists" in the following SISs, and comment on their proposed merger:
   A. Legal Information Service to the Public and Reader Services,
   B. Automation and Scientific Development and Micrographics and Audio Visual, and
   C. Online Bibliographic Services and Technical Services.

2. Consider the possibility of AALL Headquarters' publication and distribution of all SIS brochures, and the publication of all SIS newsletters as an insert in certain AALL newsletters.

3. Consider the role and responsibility of AALL in supporting SIS meetings, i.e., in activities such as providing speakers or funding, regulating relationships with commercial sponsors, scheduling convention meetings and programs to avoid conflict among Association, Chapter and SIS interests.

4. Consider a bylaw amendment changing the AALL Executive Board structure to guarantee two seats for each type-of-library SIS: Academic, Private, and State, Court and County.

5. Consider a bylaw amendment to insure participation (but not membership) at Executive Board meetings by the Chairs of the SIS Council and the Council of Chapter Presidents.

6. Consider changing the SIS dues structure and increasing dues through bylaw amendment.

7. Consider amending bylaw Article 7, Section 1 to require a written petition from 50 members rather than 25 to form a new SIS.

8. Consider a formal distinction in the Constitution and Bylaws between type-of-library and functional SISs.

FCIL SIS Chair’s comments:

The second recommendation impacts most directly on the FCIL SIS. Imagine we would lose the greater part of our membership if the newsletter was published in the AALL Newsletter. It would also mean a great loss in publishing schedule flexibility. On the other hand, the recommendation becomes quite appealing if a member cannot be found to assume the editorial position. Hopefully this recommendation will be passed as optional, not mandatory. The technical difficulty of producing twelve or more newsletters some of which are as many as fifty pages is not inconsiderable.

Suggestions for the SIS Council should be routed to me (Dan Wade, Yale Law Library, Box 401A Yale Station, New Haven, CT 06520) by November 25th; I would certainly welcome your comments, suggestions, or observations.

RENO BOUND?
Apply for a Travel Grant

The American Association of Law Libraries is again sponsoring its Grants Program, in anticipation of the 1989 Annual Meeting. At the request of Carol A. Suhre, Chair of the 1988-89 Grants Committee, we are reprinting below a short description of the Program. A grant will partially support travel to Reno. Further information and an application form will appear in the December issue of the AALL Newsletter. We certainly urge newer members of our SIS to apply.

"The Grants Program is funded through contributions from law book dealers, publishers, and other friends of AALL. The number of grants and the size of each award varies, depending on the need and the amount of money available in the Program.

"It is necessary to be a member of AALL or of an AALL chapter to be eligible to receive a grant. AALL members are given preference. Individuals who have been in the profession of law librarianship longer than five years or individuals who have received a grant in the past are not eligible to apply. Grants are awarded on the basis of: a) proven or potential ability, b) promise of future usefulness and permanence in the law library profession, c) financial need, and d) contributions to the profession.

"The deadline for completed applications is March 1, 1989. All those eligible to apply for a grant are encouraged to do so."

UNINET WIDENS NET

For the cost of communication between your location and the DEIN host computer somewhere in the U.S. and of the actual time one is linked up with the database, United Nations information material is now available to outside users electronically. The United Nations has announced the accessibility of their database United Nations Electronic Information Network (UNINET) through TELENET, DIALNET or TMYNET.

A subscription allows access to these services:

PLACEMENT

REFERENCE LIBRARIAN (FOREIGN LAW SPECIALIST), Los Angeles County Law Library, Los Angeles, CA

Requirements: ABA accredited J.D. with coursework in comparative and international law; reading knowledge of one modern European language. An ALA accredited MLS or a law degree from a recognized law school of a civil law country and reading knowledge of a second major, modern language is highly desirable.

Duties: Provide foreign and international law reference service; assist in the development of the foreign, comparative and international law collections; assist in the Reference Dept. as needed. The successful candidate without library training or experience will receive training in law librarianship under the direction of the Library Director.

Salary: Dependent upon qualifications and experience. Librarian II, $2,359 - $2,867/month; Librarian III, $2,666 - $3,240/month.

Available: Immediately.

Contact: Send resume, including names of three references relevant to qualifications and experience, to Richard T. Iamele, Library Director, Los Angeles County Law Library, 301 West First Street, Los Angeles, CA 90012.

BIBLIOGRAPHER FOR FOREIGN AND INTERNATIONAL LAW, Harvard Law School, Cambridge, MA

Duties: Selects materials for, and oversees the development of, the foreign and international law collections of the Harvard Law School Library, with emphasis upon the jurisdictions of Western Europe and Latin America. Provides reference assistance to the users of the foreign and international collections. Chairs the Foreign and International Selection Committee, which selects serials and other expensive items in foreign and international law. Analyzes collection strengths and makes recommendations for programmatic change. Works with the Acquisitions and Serials Librarians on problems relating to the ordering and receipt of materials; monitors endowment and general income book funds. Reports to the Assistant Librarian for Collection Development.

The Harvard Law School Library serves an international research community as well as the faculty and students of the School. Its collections of 1.5 million volumes from most of the world’s legal jurisdictions include more than 12,000 active serial titles. The current book budget is $1.2 million. The Harvard Law Library is a member of the Research Libraries Group and the New England Law Library Consortium. The Harvard On-Line Library Information System is used for integrated technical processing and for the public catalog.

Requirements: Knowledge of foreign and international legal materials; strong bibliographical skills; reading knowledge of German and either French or Spanish and the ability to work with a wide range of languages; excellent English-language written and oral communications skills. Preferential consideration will be given to candidates with an ALA-approved degree in library science, or a degree from an institution certified to provide instruction in the civil law or comparative legal studies. Relevant experience in a research library is also preferred.
Salary: Appointment at Librarian II rank. Salary negotiable depending upon experience, generous benefits, including professional development support.

Contact: For full consideration, send letter, resume, and names of three references by December 31 to Harry S. Martin, III, Librarian, Harvard Law School, Langdell Hall, Cambridge, MA 02138. Harvard University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

INTERNATIONAL, FOREIGN & COMPARATIVE LAW LIBRARIAN, Law School Library, Columbia University in the City of New York, NY

Requirements: ALA accredited MLS and either (1) ABA accredited JD and extensive knowledge of the civil law system, or (2) law degree from a recognized law school of a civil law country and extensive knowledge of the American legal system, previous work experience with international legal materials can be substituted for one of the required degrees; knowledge of two or more foreign languages, one of which must be Western European, preferably German; knowledge of foreign and international legal bibliography; written and verbal communications skills and an ability to work effectively with the public. Previous administrative/supervisory experience preferred.

Duties: Direct the operations of the International Law Department; provide detailed and thorough reference service in foreign and international law to faculty, students, alumni, law firms, and other library users; lecture on international, foreign, and comparative law and U.N. materials to Columbia graduate students and other groups; manage the United Nations Depository collection; participate in collection development for international, foreign, and comparative law collections; participate in co-operative collection development projects of RLG law libraries.

Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience, with a minimum salary of $30,000, housing assistance may be provided.
