Ms. Lamikanra is the Readers’ Services Librarian at the Nigerian Institute of Advanced Legal Studies (NIALS) at the University of Lagos, and has worked at NIALS in virtually every capacity since 1985.

She currently supervises senior staff and participates in reference and noter-up services, indexing and abstracting legal publications, and compilation of bibliographies and reading lists.

While on leave in 2008, Ms. Lamikanra set up the law library of the newly established Babcock University Law School and taught Legal Methods, Environmental Law, Use of the Library, and Evidence to first and fourth year college students. She is also an adjunct lecturer in Business Law for the Distance Learning Institute at the University of Lagos.

Ms. Lamikanra has authored and edited numerous books and law review articles.

The 2006 winner, Hind Al-Helaly from Egypt, is currently at the American University in Cairo Law Library—Technical Services:
“Being the 2006 FCIL Schaffer Grant recipient was an unforgettable experience for me…That experience has reflected on me, my career and my whole life.”

The 2003 winner, Emmanuel M. Darkey from Ghana, is currently at the University of Ghana Law Library—Faculty of Law:
“The conference I attended greatly imparted new ideas and improved my skills.

The FCIL-SIS Schaffer Grant for Foreign Law Librarians was founded in 2000 with matching contributions from Ellen G. Schaffer and the AALL. The Grant provides financial assistance to ensure the presence and participation of a foreign librarian at the AALL Annual Meeting. Foreign attendees enrich AALL events by sharing global perspectives for the benefit of all participants.

The 2009 winner, Ahmadullah Masoud from Afghanistan, is currently working in the Asia Foundation with the Ministry of Parliamentary Affairs as a Resource Center Manager:
“Participation in the AALL conference, its workshops and trainings has proved to be vital and very fruitful for me, since regular training is non-existent in my country; it was the best chance for me to gain practical experience.”

The 2008 winner, Leanne Cummings from Australia, is currently the Australian National Library Manager: “From this experience, I have acquired a broader understanding of issues and trends in law libraries across the globe and am more attuned to changes abroad and with the view to anticipate similar challenges and or trends occurring within the Australian landscape.”

The 2007 winner, Cheng Zhen, is currently at the National Library of China: “The FCIL Schaffer Grant for Foreign Librarians was so important for me; without it, I would never have had the opportunity to work with so many law librarians from other countries.”

The 2001 winner, Sonia Battalova from Kyrgyz Republic, is currently the Director of Information Resources and Technology at the American University of Central Asia: “With all my confidence I can say that winning the Ellen Schaffer Grant was a great step ahead in my professional career development, and the ideas I was inspired with at the conference influenced the library services development in my country …The experience and knowledge I shared with my colleagues after the conference helped us to organize and develop a network of law libraries (Library Centers for Legal Information Network) which has now covered all regions in our country.”

The 2005 winner, from another country: “The conference I attended greatly imparted new ideas and improved my skills.

The various activities, the visits and the interactions with senior colleagues gave me encouragement and determination to do something new for my library. Now, my library has computers and online materials. I feel satisfied to see our students being able to access valuable information.”
