Statistics / Recruitment

- During the 2019/20 SIS year, the M&M committee continued the practice of sending invitations to join GLL as well as welcome to GLL notifications based on monthly lists emailed from HQ. This process was placed on hold as of mid-March subsequent to COVID-19.
  - During the effective months, the committee continued to add the following to each invitation / welcome letter:
    - To the welcome email sent to new members: A copy of GLL authors’ Jennifer Dalglish, Daniel Cordova and Mark Estes Nov/Dec 2016 AALL Spectrum article “Managing Government Law Libraries Today”
    - To the invitation to join email sent to the recruitable members: A copy of the October, 2016 revised GLL “About Us” promotional handout

- Statistics reflect the Mentorship Skills Inventory access / queries during 2019/20 year

Outreach

- The Membership and Mentoring Committee continued to work with ALL SIS newsletter editors and submitted flyer alerts regarding covering the Skills Inventory and availability for use by ALL SIS members.
- The committee contributed articles to each of the GLL newsletters published during the year. Each article included a tagline which referenced the GLL M&M committee’s Mentoring Skills Inventory to promote awareness of the Skills Inventory as a resource for members. Articles published in the 2019/2019 year included reviews of selected management and leadership books, an article on AALL2Go’s e-learning by a library school student and at the event of COVID-19, a list of recommended websites related to managing a work force and maintaining productivity in a remote work environment.
- Due to COVID-19, the March initiative, to send invitations to join the SIS to all government related members who are registered in the AALL directory and were not currently members of the GLL SIS, was tabled this year.
- The committee continued to highlight a unique Mentoring Skill Inventory category monthly via the GLL listserv, with the intent to maintaining awareness of this service.
Awards

The following GLL members have been members of AALL for 20 years with 10 of those years as members of GLL. They will be recognized at the virtual GLL meeting on July 8, 2020, and their pins and certificates will be mailed to them.

Administrative

- The GLL committee reviewed and revised the Mentorship and Mentoring Committee section of the GLL Handbook. The Handbook was approved by the committee and forwarded to the committee’s Board liaison.
The chair and committee would like to acknowledge the generous support of the technology committee as well as the support of this year’s board liaison James Durham.

Respectfully submitted,

Malinda Muller
