

The Morris L. Cohen Student Essay Competition

The Legal History and Rare Books Section (LH&RB) of the American Association of Law Libraries, in cooperation with Gale, part of Cengage Learning, announces the eleventh annual Morris L. Cohen Student Essay Competition.

The competition is named in honor of Morris L. Cohen, late Professor Emeritus of Law at Yale Law School. Professor Cohen was a leading scholar in the fields of legal research, rare law books, and historical bibliography.

The purpose of the competition is to encourage scholarship in the areas of legal history, rare law books, and legal archives, and to acquaint students with the American Association of Law Libraries (AALL) and law librarianship.

Eligibility

Students currently enrolled in accredited graduate programs in library science, law, history, or related fields are eligible to enter the competition. Both full- and part-time students are eligible. Membership in AALL is not required.

Requirements

Essays may be on any topic related to legal history, rare law books, or legal archives. Please submit only one essay; additional submissions will not be considered.

The entry form & instructions are available at the LH&RB website: <https://www.aallnet.org/lhrbsis/awards-grants/>.

Entries must be submitted by 11:59 p.m., April 15, 2019 (EDT).
Entries submitted after this time will not be accepted.

Awards

The winner will receive a $500.00 prize from Cengage Learning and present the essay at an LH&RB-sponsored webinar.

The winner and runner-up will have the opportunity to publish their essays in LH&RB's online scholarly journal Unbound: A Review of Legal History and Rare Books.
