AALL LISP PUBLIC LIBRARIES TOOLKIT SUGGESTED STATE INFORMATION (OREGON) — current as of June 24, 2014

By Jaye Barlous – John E. Jaqua Law Library – University of Oregon

1. Oregon Constitution – can be found in the print version of Oregon Revised Statutes (below). It is also available online at https://www.oregonlegislature.gov/bills_laws/Pages/OrConst.aspx.

The original 1857 version online: http://bluebook.state.or.us/state/constitution/orig/const.htm. The Constitution defined and established the organization of government in Oregon from 1859 to 1902.

2. State Code (Statutes): The official source for Oregon statutory laws are the Oregon Revised Statutes (ORS). The ORS is published (print) by the State of Oregon Legislative Counsel Committee in odd-numbered years and may also be found online at https://www.oregonlegislature.gov/bills_laws/Pages/ORS.aspx. You may search current statutes by chapter, through the index, or via the search feature on the website. The online version also has annotations (see left margin).

An annotated print version is available as West’s Oregon Revised Statutes Annotated (WORSA).

3. State Bills: All the steps of a bill, with coverage beginning in 2007, are available at https://www.oregonlegislature.gov/bills_laws. Bill versions online include those introduced, amended, enrolled, enacted, as well as bills that did not pass.

Sessions laws are the enrolled bills that have been passed by both the Oregon Senate and House. Coverage goes back to 1999. You may find these via the “Oregon Laws” link in the left margin of the above webpage.

4. State Administrative Code: The Oregon Administrative Rules Compilation is an annual print publication containing the complete text of Oregon Administrative Rules (OARs) filed through Nov. 15th of the previous year. The online version is updated on the first of each month to include rule actions from the previous month. See at http://sos.oregon.gov/archives/Pages/oregon_administrative_rules.aspx.

The website noted above also provides access to the Oregon Bulletin, http://arcweb.sos.state.or.us/pages/rules/bulletin/past.html, which supplements the OARs. It contains rule text adopted or amended after publication of the print compilation as well as Notices of Proposed Rule-making and Rulemaking Hearing. The Bulletin also includes certain non-OAR items when they are submitted, such as Executive Orders of the Governor and Opinions of the Attorney General. Online coverage begins in 2011.

Yet another option is the National Association of Secretaries of State Administrative Codes and Registers website: http://www.administrativerules.org/administrative-rules/. It’s one of the best means of accessing the administrative codes and registers for all fifty states, the District of Columbia, and the U.S. territories. Forty-eight (48) states now have their administrative codes on the internet.

5. County and Municipal (City) Codes: The Association of Oregon Counties, http://www.aocweb.org, provides information on Oregon’s thirty-six (36) counties with links to official county websites providing codes, services, contacts, and facts.

For city codes, use the League of Oregon Cities website at http://www.orcities.org/Home/tabid/6700/language/en-US/Default.aspx. Choose the “Useful Links” option, then “LOC City Directory” for codes. This website also provides detailed city information on charters, population, incorporation dates, meeting times and dates of city council and commissions, etc.

Another online city code option is the Municode Library: https://www.municode.com/library/or.

6. State Jury Instructions – can be found in the Uniform Civil and Criminal Jury Instructions. Updated annually, these instructions are used by most judges in Oregon courts and by counsel throughout the state. Includes some forms.

Oregon Uniform Criminal Jury Instructions. Tigard, Or.: Oregon State Bar, Committee on Uniform Criminal Jury Instructions. 2009 Revision with 2010-2013 Supplements.

7. State Forms:
   Online – are available from Oregon courts; see selected links below:

   Oregon Department of Revenue: http://www.oregon.gov/DOR/Pages/index.aspx. Oregon State business, personal, property and other tax services including rules and electronic filling. There is a “Forms and Publications” link in the left margin.

Forms in Print Publications (selected)
   - Oregon Uniform Criminal Jury Instructions and Oregon Uniform Civil Jury Instructions (see State Jury Instructions above)
   - Oregon Law & Practice. Eagan, Mn.: Thomson/West, 2011-

Note: Forms in print may also be contained in various topical practice guides, treatises and Oregon State Bar Legal Publications manuals.

8. State Legal Encyclopedias: There is no current legal encyclopedia for Oregon.

9. State Cases: A basic court structure includes a trial court, an intermediate appellate court and a court of last resort. In Oregon, trial courts are called circuit courts. Oregon’s intermediate court is called the Court of Appeals and its highest court is the Oregon Supreme Court. Cases from state trial courts in Oregon are not published; in fact, few states publish opinions at the trial court level because they lack precedential value.
