

OBS-SIS Local Systems Committee
2014-2015 Annual Report

At the 108th AALL Annual Meeting on Monday, July 20th, during the OBS Local Systems Committee Roundtable session, OBS will present the following program:

Title: Migrating to Open Source: Koha and Kuali OLE in Law Libraries

Coordinator/moderator: Kevin Carey, OBS Local Systems Committee Chair

Speakers: Nate Curulla, Owner, CRO of ByWater Solutions

Jeff Gabel, Cataloging Librarian/E-Resource Manager, Brooklyn Law School Library

Marjorie Crawford, Head of Technical Services, Rutgers University law School Library

Pat Sayre-McCoy, Head of Law Cataloging and Serials, University of Chicago D'Angelo Law Library

Description: Curious about open source ILS systems? Wondering what it takes to migrate to one? Hear an overview of what open source is, why a library might choose it, and how a vendor might help with migration. Then hear the experiences of three law librarians who helped the following libraries migrate to open source systems: Brooklyn Law School (Ill to Koha); Rutgers Law School (Ill to Koha); and the University of Chicago's D'Angelo Law Library (Horizon to Kuali OLE).

A summary of this program will be added to the Local Systems Committee web page, along with summaries and reviews of recent Roundtable presentations.

The Committee was chaired by Kevin Carey, The Ohio State University, with the following members:

Georgia Briscoe	University of Colorado
Virginia Bryant	George Washington University
Karen Douglas	Duke University
Ismael Gullon	Mercer University
Katie Jones	Wyoming State Law Library
Susan Karpuk	Yale University
Ellen McGrath	University at Buffalo - SUNY
Keiko Okuhara	University of Hawaii