What kind of topics would you like to have programs on?

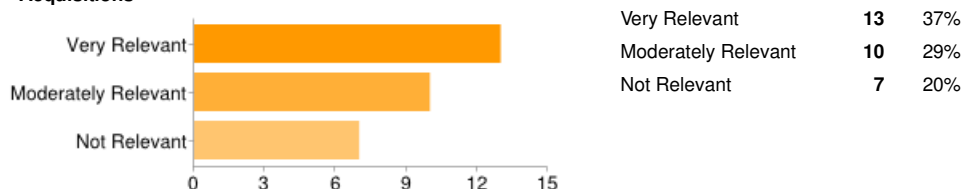

Test I like technical topics with practical outcomes--either explaining new concepts such as the FRSAD program last year and the Linked Data topic this year, or specific informative programs such as the Local Systems Roundtable topic this year. I'm not as interested in more general topics such as the Hot Topic this year because I think general "interest" programs are usually focused on public services and of not much use to me in my daily work. I also don't like "feel-good" programs because they aren't useful either. Systems' implementation of RDA/FRBR, management of e-resources, automated aut ...

We are looking at expanding education opportunities for our members. Would you be interested in OBS putting together webinars. If so, please let us know what topics you would like to see covered.

Test I would LOVE to view OBS-sponsored webinars, especially if they were free or low cost. I would like to see any technology-related webinars, and I think rebroadcasting relevant programs from the AALL Annual Meeting and from regional (WestPac, SEALL, SWALL, etc.) Annual Meetings would be a service to all OBS members, especially those with little or no budgets to travel to conferences. It would also allow busy AALL attendees to view programs that they missed because of scheduling conflicts or to review interesting programs that they enjoyed at the conference. Yes! This is a good way of shari ...

Please rank the overall quality of TSSL:

How much of each TSSL issue do you read?

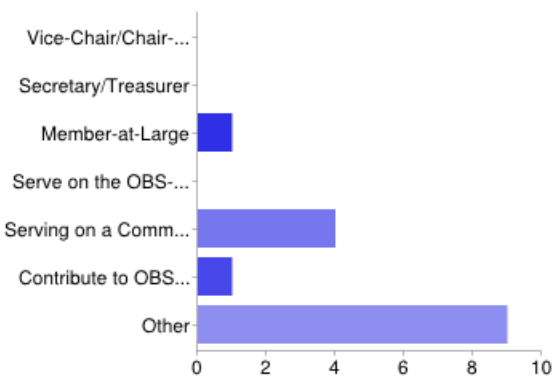

Please let us know what could be improved in TSSL. List any areas of interest not currently covered or general comments:

test Love it!! I read every issue cover to cover. Keep up the good work! Other than publishing more often (which I know isn't realistic), I really can't think of anything. It's great to have it on HeinOnline too, so I can search older issues. I'd like to see program reports for other than AALL programs in TSSL. But other than that, I can't think of anything TSSL isn't already doing very well. I honestly didn't know this newsletter existed, so I would say you could do a better job promoting it... I think topically some of the columns could use a facelift. One thing that jumps out is "The Internet ..."

Please offer us some feedback on the OBS-SIS website (<http://www.aallnet.org/sis/obssis/>):

test Needs to be updated more frequently/reliably. I like it, given the framework you have to work with. I personally think it needs some photos or something to make it more lively, like the main AALL page, but that may not be possible. There is a lot of out-of-date information on it. It reflects badly on OBS. I had never before visited the OBS-SIS website, but on my first time, these were my impressions: (first accessed on 2/1/2013 at 8:36 am EST) - my first impression is that it's simple and clean, but needs to be updated to look like it fits in this decade... - the Committees quick link doesn't ...

No comments at this point Looks great! Thanks to the committee for updating it! It looks good to me. I'd like OBS to consider developing our own mentors or experts so that we can concentrate on OBS issues. I have mixed results with the AALL mentoring program--about half the time I am not mentoring a t.s. librarian and I feel that isn't a good use of my time or the person I'm mentoring. I love the Alphabet Soup reception because it's a good chance to connect. I'd like to see an "expert program" developed for things like commonly used software (MSOffice, statistical programs) for librarians who ...

How can OBS serve you better?

Just keep communicating, connecting, educating, and advocating with, to and for us! I'm very satisfied with what OBS does and don't have any suggestions right now. Communicate with members more about what the Executive Board is doing behind the scenes and what I can do to help. This is non-existent now, so I rarely if ever think about OBS. I apologize, but this is not a question that I have thought much about. I have not been a member of AALL or the OBS for long, and I would like to learn more about opportunities for me to serve and learn from colleagues. OBS is a fabulous group. I wish we ...
