Researching International Business Transactions

Leah Sandwell-Weiss
Reference Librarian and Professor of Practice
Daniel F. Cracchiolo Law Library
James E. Rogers College of Law
The University of Arizona
P.O. Box 210176
Tucson AZ 85721-0176
520-621-3140
rsweiss@email.arizona.edu

This presentation was prepared for a stand-alone presentation on researching international business transactions for the International Business Transactions course. This survey course analyzed the key legal and practical aspects of doing business internationally. The presentation covers some preliminary definitions; treatises; hornbooks & study aids; reference works; selected journals; finding guides; databases available through the law library and online; investor-state arbitration decisions; relevant organizations; sources to keep up to date; and local research guides.

To view the entire kit, please visit https://www.aallnet.org/ripssis/education-training/teach-in/26th-national/.