Caucus Officers for 2012-2013
The 2012-2013 Gen X Gen Y Caucus board members included: Liz McCurry Johnson, Chair; Trezlen Drake, Vice Chair/Chair-Elect; Adriana Mark, Secretary.

Member-Sponsored Projects
The Caucus also continued the “Conference Buddy” program whereby more experienced Caucus members volunteered to be guides to newer members and assist the newer members with navigating through their first AALL Annual Meeting.

Caucus Website and Social Media Project
This year, the caucus set up a caucus Facebook page, Twitter feed, and blog. The Facebook page regularly had in excess of 70 visitors and peaked during AALL at over 500 page views per day. Our blog and Twitter feed have also attracted followers. Our goal for next year is to move the blog into the AALLNET page and to increase the number of posts and followers substantially. There are 10 consistent members of the committee who will help with this.

Programming Initiatives: 2013 AALL Annual Meeting Sponsored Programs
The Gen X/ Gen Y programming committee received five suggestions from the membership for potential AALL conference programs. Of those five suggestions, four were developed into proposals and only one program was accepted.

- Climbing the Library Ladder: Promotion and Advancement Tips and Techniques for Law Librarians+
- Plucking the Worm from the Apple: Effective Strategies for Negotiating Law Library Workplace Conflicts+
- Releasing Your Inner Writer*
- Reverse Mentoring in a Law Library Setting: New Hire Contributions for Web 2.0 Technology and Training

While no comments were provided from the AMPC to suggest reasons why the programs we proposed were rejected, below please find some potential ideas for the future and reflections for next year:

- Encourage more Gen X/GenY librarians to join the AMPC committee.
- Despite the fact that the guidelines for program proposals did not require a sponsoring organization, all future program proposals should include a reference that the program is being sponsored by Gen X/ Gen Y.
- Costs for speakers should be minimized as much as possible.
- Program Committee members should each be assigned to submit a single program (instead of the Chair submitting them).
- Proven programs (Releasing Your Inner Writer) may fair better than untried programs.

The Gen X/Y Networking Social
The 2013 social was held on Sunday, July 14, at the Triple Door Musiquarium Lounge in Seattle. The Caucus enjoyed music by Seattle band The Vaudeville Etiquette, and food and beverages were provided by Wild Ginger. After preparing for an estimated eighty guests, we had one hundred and thirteen sign in, representing a nearly fifty percent increase over attendance in Boston in 2012. In the coming year, the social committee plans to raise the Caucus’s profile through social networking and by reaching out to library school students via the AALL Student Caucus, as well as to plan another social in San Antonio in 2014.

Newly Elected Officers for 2013-2014
The Nominations Committee has formalized the voting guidelines and nominations process for the Caucus. In sum of their hard work, we presented those guidelines and job responsibilities to the general membership to vote upon them for acceptance at the Annual Member. These were approved. They will be posted on the Gen X Gen Y Caucus website.

The newly elected Caucus officers for 2013-2014 are Trezlen Drake, Chair; Jordan Jefferson, Vice Chair/Chair-Elect; Andrea Alexander, Secretary.

The Chair wishes to thank the outgoing officers and the caucus committee members for their hard work and dedication throughout the year.
