

AALL SPECTRUM FACT SHEET

As the official magazine of the American Association of Law Libraries, AALL Spectrum is dedicated to providing informative and engaging articles of interest to AALL members, law librarians, and other legal information professionals.

SPECIFICATIONS

A four-color, 48-page magazine that is published bimonthly.

CONTENT

As the official bimonthly magazine of the American Association of Law Libraries (AALL), AALL Spectrum provides informative and engaging articles of interest to AALL members. The magazine informs readers about the ever-changing, multifaceted world of legal information professionals on areas including the transformation of law, career and leadership development, accessibility, education, information technology, and best practices. The magazine also keeps members apprised of Association events and activities.

STYLE

AALL Spectrum follows The Chicago Manual of Style Seventeenth Edition and Merriam-Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, Eleventh Edition for matters of style and usage, as well as an AALL Style Guide specific to the editorial requirements of the Association.

OVERSIGHT

The American Association of Law Libraries is responsible for the creation and approval of general policies relating to the content, advertising, budget, and production of AALL Spectrum. All submissions will be edited for clarity, grammar, and length. AALL has final discretion for specific content, form, and style of all items published in the magazine.

ADVERTISING

AALL Spectrum accepts display and classified advertising from information vendors, book publishers, and others who supply goods and services to legal information professionals. All advertising is subject to editorial approval. AALL reserves the right to refuse any advertising deemed inappropriate and/or offensive.

CIRCULATION

AALL Spectrum is distributed to 4,100 members as a benefit to their membership with the Association.
