

TAKE A LOOK BACK AT WHAT WE ACCOMPLISHED TOGETHER LAST YEAR

Dear Member,

I would like to express our deepest gratitude for your continued membership and support of AALL. Although 2020 was a year of firsts, filled with unprecedented challenges and changes, your AALL community remained dedicated to providing you with the support you need for continued success, both professionally and personally. Over the past year, your commitment to AALL has enabled us to:

- launch AALL's eLearning platform and the new AALL self-paced course "Introduction to Law Library Budgets"--both are firsts for AALL.
- offer over 25 Virtual Coffee Chats (members-only, informal discussions) and 30 webinars on a range of topics.
- host the first AALL Virtual Conference with over 40 sessions at a reduced price for members. Recordings from the Virtual Conference are now available to you at no cost.
- provide you with the COVID 19 Updates & Resources page that listed tools available to you during the pandemic as employees, employers, and as clients of vendors.
- commit to greater equity and inclusion by creating the Anti-Racism, Diversity, Equity & Inclusion page and creating a survey from the Inclusion, Diversity, Equity and Awareness (IDEA) Special Committee in service of our long-standing commitment to diversity.
- advocate for you with Congress and continue to offer many trainings preparing you to advocate on behalf of your own law libraries including the AALL Virtual Legislative Advocacy Training.
- gather voting resources, such as information about registering to vote, finding your polling place, and requesting absentee and mail-in ballots.

We will be sending membership renewals on March 1, 2021. In the coming year, AALL will continue to focus on its mission to advance the profession of law librarianship and legal information and support your professional growth with plans to accomplish the following:

- a more engaging and interactive Virtual Conference with the theme "Leading with Wisdom & Insight," with reduced rates for members.
- release of the 2021 Salary Survey, your digital copy is included in your membership.
- offer more coffee chats and webinars on topics relevant to you.
- provide exciting professional development opportunities through trainings, institutes, bootcamps, and more.
- commit resources and efforts towards a more inclusive and diverse AALL and legal information profession.

Thank you for your support and dedication of AALL. We look forward to serving you for another year!

Sincerely,

Emily R. Florio
