AALL 2023 REGISTRATION IS NOW OPEN

We are excited to announce that you may now register for the 2023 AALL Annual Meeting & Conference —Map Our Future. AALL 2023 continues to be a gathering place for thousands of law librarians and legal information professionals to network with their peers, dive deeper into their professional development, explore topics and strategies tailored specifically to their roles, and gain the tools needed to become more successful within their organizations.

Due to a change in hotel circumstances, details for the AALL hotel room block will be released soon. We will communicate with you once this information is available. Thank you for your patience.

We are thrilled to announce this year's keynote speaker, Charles Vogl. Vogl's work is used to advise and develop leadership programs worldwide within organizations including Airbnb, LinkedIn, Twitch, Amazon, ServiceNow, Meetup.com, Wayfair, and the U.S. Army.

Drawing on three thousand years of spiritual traditions, Vogl teaches the wisdom and principles to build deep community and resilient relationships that foster innovation and integrity within organizations and around the world.

During his keynote "The Art of Community," Vogl will discuss time-tested principles for growing effective and connected communities, focusing on the power of invitation. We hope you are as excited as we are to hear him speak.

Join us July 15-18, 2023 in Boston, Massachusetts, for four days of innovative tailored learning including preconference workshops, 65+ educational programs, and a dynamic exhibit hall showcasing a myriad of products and services—this is the one conference all year you do not want to miss.

WHY ATTEND?

- Learn about current and future trends in legal research.
- Explore the latest technologies and innovations in the Exhibit Hall.
- Network and collaborate with colleagues from around the country.
