Members of the Law Library Journal Editorial Board serve as advisers to the Law Library Journal Editor to provide critical insights on articles submitted so that the Journal delivers the consistent and reliable content you need. The Board is integral in reviewing content and helping to prepare it for publication. Content for the Journal will continue to have a focus on research, both contemporary and historical.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Maintain an interest in the state of the profession, continuing legal education, emerging trends, technology, and research
- Identify key topics that the Journal should cover
- Attract new authors and submissions
- Review submissions for quality and significance via a peer-review process
- Advise and mentor authors on accepted articles
- Participate in organizing symposia and themed issues
- Participate in editing and Bluebooking as needed
- Participate in monthly virtual meetings throughout the year.

QUALIFICATIONS:

Members of the Law Library Journal Editorial Board reflect the diversity of AALL members in terms of library type and areas of subject interest, including age, gender, and minority status. Qualified candidates should possess strong proofreading skills, a proficiency in Bluebooking, and a desire to work collaboratively. Experience in writing, editing, and publication production will also be considered.

APPLICATION & SELECTION PROCESS:

The call for applications is open until Friday, March 29, 2024. Interviews may be conducted by the Law Library Journal Editor, members of the LLJ editorial board, and AALL staff in April. Candidates who are selected will be notified in May 2024.

TENURE:

Members of the Law Library Journal Editorial Board serve for a two-year term. The term starts in July 2024, following the Annual Meeting & Conference and will end in July 2026.
SIZE:
The Law Library Journal Editorial Board consists of a chair (editor), six members, and a staff liaison.
